

Palliative Care Collaborative UK GDPR guidance

The materials, case studies, and guidance provided on this website are intended solely for general information sharing and best-practice exchange. They do not constitute professional, clinical, legal, financial, or operational advice, nor do they replace the need for independent judgement and consultation with qualified professionals.

As part of our commitment to robust information governance and data protection, UK PALLIATIVE CARE COLLABORATIVE (UKPCC) C.I.C. advises all organisations and individuals to undertake comprehensive due diligence, including risk assessments, legal and regulatory compliance checks, and consultation with relevant experts, prior to adopting or adapting any practices described herein.

UK PALLIATIVE CARE COLLABORATIVE (UKPCC) C.I.C. makes no representations or warranties, express or implied, regarding the completeness, accuracy, or suitability of any information provided. Users remain responsible for ensuring that any use of the information complies with applicable data protection laws, organisational policies, and risk management frameworks.

By accessing and using this website, you acknowledge and accept that UK PALLIATIVE CARE COLLABORATIVE (UKPCC) C.I.C. bears no responsibility or liability for any loss, damage, or adverse consequences arising from reliance on, or use of, any information contained herein, whether directly or indirectly. This includes, but is not limited to, breaches of data protection, information security incidents, or regulatory non-compliance.

For further guidance on information risk management or data protection, please consult your organisation's SIRO or DPO, or seek professional advice as appropriate
